Scholarship renewal rules relax

When students receive bills from Truman for the winter semester, they might notice that in addition to the $80 fee for access to the Truman Health and Counseling Centers, a $25 fee will be assessed for use of the Health Center and Counseling Services. However, this $25 fee has already been charged for the Fall semester, which means students will have to pay the fee twice for the school year. The Health and Counseling Centers have charged the fee since last year because a new state law, House Bill 163, went into effect in the Spring. Under the bill, universities are allowed to charge a fee for services that were previously free, such as counseling and 免费西北地区的大学和学院。

The $25 fee will be billed to students with their winter bills from Truman for this semester as well as last semester. The fee will apply to the spring semester as well. The fee will enable the Health and Counseling Centers to continue providing the services they currently offer to students. Gibb said that during its two years of existence, the Health and Counseling Centers have “gone from a negative budget to the point of being self-sustaining.” Gibb said it is necessary to consider how to fund the Health and Counseling Centers in the long run, and that the fee is a way to continue to fund these services. She suggested that the fee could be increased in the future if needed. The $25 fee is in addition to the fees students pay for their student health insurance, both required for all students at Truman. There are also additional fees, such asarmacy fees, that students pay as part of their tuition and fees. The fee supplements campus services

When students receive bills from Truman for the winter semester, they might notice that in addition to the $80 fee for access to the Truman Health and Counseling Centers, a $25 fee will be assessed for use of the Health Center and Counseling Services. The fee is in addition to the $80 fee that was assessed for access to the Health Center and Counseling Services last semester. The fee is intended to help fund the Health and Counseling Centers, which provide a variety of services to students, including mental health counseling, health services, and wellness programs. The fee is in addition to the fees students pay for their student health insurance, both required for all students at Truman. There are also additional fees, such as pharmacy fees, that students pay as part of their tuition and fees. The fee supplements campus services.
