Rape drug use besets campus, students wary

Increase in date rape threats at University officials

Stanton Armstrong

Thursday, February 23, 2006

Turning away from the pornography of the TV and down from the latest color television, Rearick said.

Data rape is an increasing threat at the University, and Rearick noted that the number of such incidents is increasing.

"We have had five in the last 30 days of January," Rearick said. "We have six in the last week, and we have had five in the last 30 days of February."

Rearick said that the data rape threats are a serious concern, and that they are taking steps to address the problem.

"We are very concerned about this issue," Rearick said. "We are working with the Department of Public Safety and the Department of Students Affairs to address this issue."