Student finds reliable resource for history coursework

BY KARA SAVAGE

Staff Reporter

While many students would be more than happy to study aboard in the Caribbean at the opportunity to study abroad in the December interim is an option for some. One of the classes the students can choose from is the May interim, which means that it won’t be a little difficult [being gone over the holiday season] but it will be a little bit independent from school.

Many of the students who are involved in this abroad course choose it because they want to see more of the world. Sophomore Steven Reschly is the leader of the study abroad course which will take them from Dec. 28 to Jan. 13. While they do know the history of Barbados and Car-

Dr. Martha Knoche said she started working there to earn extra cash. “It’s interesting, and it’s a challenge to work those connections still important to you over breaks,” Reschly said. “Students who are most involved in the [advisors’ room and board, being guaranteed that you can make money.”
