Flu virus batters campuses, classes

BY KELLY SCHUTE
Staff Reporter

Last week, a student back/2007/2008
lagged behind the flu or felt ill.

As of Jan. 30, Truman State University students received an e-mail from the Student Health Center staff concerning Influenza-like Illnesses on campus. If you feel a fever, cough and/or muscle aches, chills, diarrhea, vomiting, see a doctor, immediately contact the Student Health Center for more information.

We see over 50 students Monday through Friday, 280 plus, with influenza-like illness.

Dhungana/Truman State University

Inside this issue

BY CATLIN DEAN

Firm will conduct series of meetings throughout renovation process

Sam Minner recently informed the Pershing office that a series of planning meetings will be conducted beginning in February. Minner also stated that the Pershing Building advisory committee will be asked to make recommendations for the renovation project.

The renovation is projected to be completed in October 2008, although a specific date will be determined later this year.

"We scheduled meetings with each of the academic units who will be impacted by the Pershing Building," Minner said. "Students, faculty and staff will be critical voices and we look forward to their input."