Actually, it’s kind of exic- ing to see the revolution in the auto in tustry, such as the gadgets in the Prius, and I’m happy that hybrid cars are coming to the forefront again.

I know there are other hybrid cars out there, but the Prius is the only one that I’ve really been interested in, and it’s the only one that I’ve really been interested in, and it’s the only one that I’ve really been interested in.

I’m staying in touch with people, and I’m hearing from them that they’re getting their Prius back in stock.

Chris Harvey, a professor of political science at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, said the Prius has been a big hit with consumers, and it’s helped to bring hybrid cars to the forefront.

The Prius offers a lot of benefits to drivers, including fuel efficiency, reduced emissions, and a more satisfying driving experience.
