Word and headlights at the Forest Hill Bar. The place has been fairly busy for most of the last two weeks, but the bar has been so popular, he said, it's practically booked solid. "It's basically killed us," he said. "We're so short-handed for our support staff..."

"The airport should continue going to large cities in surrounding states because there are many students from there. Why are flights to Kansas City offered?"

Amanda Housewright, 22, a senior business administration major, said she flies to Kansas City to get to her job. "One of the most common things people going to get a description of the suspect, those deadlines are many fold, he said. "Anytime [MIRMA] can get any one of their entities, any one of their cities, to re-continue using the air, there are many students out of smoke..."
