Midwest.

The two men are quick to say that it's a 'we' thing, Blyth said. “It starts with me, it starts with you, it starts with all of us,” Blyth said.

As a former independent who ran as an independent in 2004, Blyth knows the ups and downs of the primary process.

"It's a 'we' thing," Blyth said. "It's an us thing." Blyth said. "We don't need an amendment for it when things like immigration are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like same-sex marriage are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like health care are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like the war in Iraq are on the table." Blyth said. "We don't need an amendment for it when things like the war on terrorism are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like the war on poverty are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like the war on crime are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like the war on drugs are on the table. We don't need an amendment for it when things like the war on terror are on the table.
