The team opened the season with a win against Missouri State," head coach Mark Gole said. "We thought we had enough to overcome the 32-point deficit."

"We didn't get the job done where we needed to," McCall said. "Our freshmen just have a lot of learning to do."

"Here it seems like when we go against a bigger team, we all dive in the water going right and then trying to keep up with them," Totura said. "It's all about learning as far as race strategy."

"Our freshmen just have a lot of learning to do," Totura said. "They're always that chance that you're going to make some mistakes, but you're going to learn from them and get better."
