Sorority recruitment this year will be simplified and stress-free, with one common theme this year: “Go no-frills.”

“By simplifying their recruitment, there is one common resolution, there is one common theme this year is simply, “Go no-frills,” said Beth Tuttle, director of the university’s Greek affairs Web site. In order to make joining Greek life easier,” Tuttle said.

Even though accounts are protected in this way, some students have expressed concern about extra costs to replace the debit feature of their ID cards.

“Even though accounts are protected in this way, some students have expressed concern about extra costs to replace the debit feature of their ID cards,” said Sherrie Fortson, director of the University’s Greek Affairs.

While the concept of no-frills is gaining traction across the country, the practice of no-frills recruitment has been adopted by few sororities. The concept of no-frills is gaining traction across the country, the practice of no-frills recruitment has been adopted by few sororities.
