Senate recommendations tabled

BY AMANDA GOSSER

Samantha J. Sevigny, Kirkville junior and member of the Joseph Baldwin Academy, has been selected by the Board of Governors to replace Robert Gooch as chair of the communications arts department.

Goal

The Board of Governors approves a change to the campus posting policy, already outlined by a pro and con list.

Position

The chair of the communications arts department, Robert Gooch, said he would like to see a more student-oriented and community-friendly environment to better support students and the community.

Institution

Kevin Minch, associate professor of communication arts, said that the goal of the communications arts department is to create a more inclusive and diverse community that promotes the arts and allows students to explore their interests.

Policy (as in “origination or circulation”)

The policy outlines the advertising regulations that govern the distribution of information on campus.

Policy (as in “origination or circulation”)

The policy outlines the advertising regulations that govern the distribution of information on campus.

Policy (as in “origination or circulation”)

The policy outlines the advertising regulations that govern the distribution of information on campus.

Policy (as in “origination or circulation”)

The policy outlines the advertising regulations that govern the distribution of information on campus.

Policy (as in “origination or circulation”)

The policy outlines the advertising regulations that govern the distribution of information on campus.