Author addresses U.S. patriotism

BY JOHN HETZEL

I found a gem in Puck Magazine’s Li- brary of Giving, where President Barack Obama has revealed, in his own words, his main source of inspiration: “The best of America. A Letter of Warning.” I’m going to argue that Obama’s letter isn’t a letter not worth reading. It’s not a letter that will make you think about America in the same way. It’s not a letter that will change your mind about the direction this country is going. It’s not a letter that will make you see America in a new light.

Yes, it’s a letter. But it’s not a letter that you can read in one sitting. It’s a letter that you can read over time. It’s a letter that you can keep coming back to. It’s a letter that you can use to think about America. It’s a letter that you can use to think about what it means to be American. It’s a letter that you can use to think about what it means to be a part of a country.

Obama’s letter is a letter that is full of wisdom. It is full of ideas. It is full of hope. It is full of possibilities. It is a letter that is full of the possibilities of what America could be. It is a letter that is full of the possibilities of what America should be.

If you read Obama’s letter, you will learn about the history of America. You will learn about the struggles that Americans have faced. You will learn about the challenges that Americans have overcome. You will learn about the achievements that Americans have made.

Obama’s letter is a letter that is full of passion. It is full of patriotism. It is full of love for America. It is full of commitment to America. It is a letter that is full of the love that Americans have for their country.

If you read Obama’s letter, you will feel proud to be American. You will feel proud to be a part of a country that has such a rich history. You will feel proud to be part of a country that has such a bright future.

Obama’s letter is a letter that is full of hope. It is full of the hope that America’s future will be bright. It is full of the hope that America’s future will be better. It is a letter that is full of the hope that America’s future will be the best.

If you read Obama’s letter, you will feel optimistic about America’s future. You will feel optimistic about the possibilities that America has. You will feel optimistic about the future that America will create.

Obama’s letter is a letter that is full of action. It is full of the action that America needs to take. It is full of the action that Americans need to take. It is a letter that is full of the action that America must take to ensure a bright future.

If you read Obama’s letter, you will feel empowered to take action. You will feel empowered to make a difference. You will feel empowered to be a part of creating a better future.

Obama’s letter is a letter that is full of love. It is full of the love that America has for its people. It is full of the love that America has for its future. It is a letter that is full of the love that America has for its place in the world.

If you read Obama’s letter, you will feel loved by America. You will feel loved by the people of America. You will feel loved by the country of America.

So, if you haven’t read Obama’s letter yet, I suggest you do. It is a letter that is full of wisdom. It is a letter that is full of passion. It is a letter that is full of hope. It is a letter that is full of action. It is a letter that is full of love.

Go read it. You won’t be sorry.
