Meth360 fights illegal drug use in Adair county

BY DANA BRUVJOFF

A new program designed to coun-tel and reduce methamphetamine use has been introduced in Adair County. The initiative, called Meth360, is aimed at educating people in Kirksville and the surrounding area about meth use and its consedences so that they can make informed decisions in the future.

The Meth360 program is sponsored by the Adair County Drug Coalition and is part of the Meth360 Missouri initiative. The program’s goals are to educate the public about the dangers of meth use and to reduce the rate of meth addiction in Adair County.

The program will provide education and prevention materials to the community, including school districts, libraries, and other organizations. The program will be supported by the Adair County Drug Coalition, and the organization will work with schools, libraries, and community organizations to provide education and prevention materials.

The program will focus on educating people about the dangers of meth use, including the physical, social, and economic consequences. The program will also educate people about the consequences of meth use, such as addiction, liver damage, and increased risk of HIV.

The program will work with local organizations, including school districts, libraries, and community organizations, to provide education and prevention materials. The program will work with schools, libraries, and community organizations to provide education and prevention materials.

The program will provide education and prevention materials to the community, including school districts, libraries, and other organizations. The program will be supported by the Adair County Drug Coalition, and the organization will work with schools, libraries, and community organizations to provide education and prevention materials.

The program will focus on educating people about the dangers of meth use, including the physical, social, and economic consequences. The program will also educate people about the consequences of meth use, such as addiction, liver damage, and increased risk of HIV.

The program will work with local organizations, including school districts, libraries, and community organizations, to provide education and prevention materials. The program will work with schools, libraries, and community organizations to provide education and prevention materials.