Senate proposes new student housing option

Senate debates whether or not students should be able to stay on campus during week-long breaks

BY KELLEY LANE

For some students, there’s no place like home — except Kirksville.

This Sunday, Student Senate will vote on a resolution to allow students to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks in the spring semester.

Several student Senators say they are optimistic that the resolution will pass, despite a university-wide error that resulted in confusion and chaos on campus.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman Tonya Wolf, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.

“I think that it’s a good idea,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“I think that the students should have the opportunity to stay in residence halls during the week-long breaks to save money and to get a break from campus life,” said Wolf.

“I don’t see why not,” said Freshman John Gardiner, a member of Student Senate.

“It’s a great idea. I think it would save money,” said Gardiner.

A Student Senate matter of fact vote on the resolution will take place next Sunday, February 8, 2009.