Although economic times are rough, the Adair County Sheriff's Office plans to hire six new deputies this year. The department currently consists of 15 deputies and five road deputies.

"Due to the current economic situation and the economic situation in the state, we have other options that we need to look at," Adair County Sheriff Robert Hardwick said. "We have to do something to put some folks back to work in this county, and that's what the sales tax has been for." The Adair County Sheriffs Department received $1.6 million from the sales tax collected in 2007.

"It was a law enforcement sales tax that was passed," Hardwick said. "With that, we're able to put some folks back to work in this county, and that's what the sales tax has been for. Thus far, all the funds from the tax are being used to fund operations for the department." The funds collected from the sales tax are being used to fund operations for the department. The sales tax is expected to bring in $1.5 million more this year, according to the Missouri Department of Revenue.

The new funds will allow better services for the citizens of Adair County, Hardwick said. "These new deputies will be able to put some folks back to work in this county, and that's what the sales tax has been for."
