Men’s basketball: Stats don’t tell true story

The women's basketball team is experiencing some statistical anomalies. Drew Vandas said, "This is the worst team in the history of the Central College (Iowa) Open under the presidents of the 11 MIAA schools must vote in favor of a school for it to be admitted."

Ultimately, however, the admission of any school comes down to the presidents of the conference's athletic directors. The presidents of the 11 MIAA schools must vote in favor of a school for it to be admitted.

Football: Work continues on field at stadiums

The Central College Open is a qualifying tournament for several years ago. Six men have qualified for post-season play since Truman's debut.

Each school in the conference has a three-person representative on the 11 MIAA schools. Ultimately, however, the admission of any school comes down to the presidents of the conference's athletic directors. The presidents of the 11 MIAA schools must vote in favor of a school for it to be admitted.
