Graduate student Christina Scheperle was inspired after attending an autism conference in summer 2008 and with the help of other music therapists, Kathy Pajol and Jennifer Colley, introduced the music therapy program.

Autistic children participate in music study

BY MARIAH BOHANON

Features Editor

Autistic children participate in music study

Graduate student Christina Scheperle was inspired after attending an autism conference in summer 2008 and with the help of other music therapists, Kathy Pajol and Jennifer Colley, introduced the music therapy program.

BY STEPHANIE HALL

Staff reporter

Today St. Patrick's Day tradi- tionally centers on changing green hour while placing your neighbor's hairdresser on the phone, and not just because it would be hard to find a green hair dye without a matching shirt or tie. But it is all that much more fun when you can wear green and show off your Irish pride.

textual content