Fun facts about Halloween:
- I am very fond of baking, and the holidays are my season. Tomorrow passes with costume parties, scary movies and mountains of candy, and then Thanksgiving and Christmas are just around the corner. The living season of a year is the time when we eat too much, complain about eating too much, and especially from Thanksgiving to New Year's. The kitchen is a very busy time. What I love about the family is coming to visit in my yard and bakery, but next month I am about to start the cooking I will be doing during Christmas. I say, bring it on! I will not attend a private school a special kickoff of the holiday season.
