Old day care becomes res hall

Former Early Childhood Center houses overflow students, now West Campus Annex

BY ANDREA HENVIT

From kids’ play to late-night studying, the building next to West Campus Suites has experienced more changes than one.

When Janine Good, former director of Residence Life, reaped the number of freshmen, number of students and accessibility of doing on-campuses housing was more than the building could offer. Janine Good, director of Residence Life at Truman, stated that the building next to West Campus Suites has four rooms: a student adviser room, two double rooms and one triple room. Good said there are four rooms: a student adviser room, two double rooms and one triple room. New Student Welcome opens tomorrow
