Are You Interested in a Minor in Disability Studies?

The School of Health Sciences and Education (HSE) is exploring the possibility of developing a minor in Disability Studies. The Disability Studies minor would be of interest to students from many different academic areas. Students interested in the arts, law, medicine, psychology, social work, health, nursing, architecture, education, communication disorders, and other liberal arts and sciences may have a special interest in applying their study to focusing on the needs of disabled populations.

A minor in Disability Studies would provide the opportunity to study the nature, meaning, and disabilities in global contexts.

If a minor in Disability Studies interests you, please attend an informal discussion on Monday, September 10th at 4:00 p.m. in Violette Hall, room 1320. The purpose of the discussion would be to generate ideas and gauge student interest.
