COMMUNITY Campuses continue to battle flu

Kirkville

Planned Parenthood to shutter its doors, patients disappointed

Continued from Page 1

the other two Planned Parenthood facilities in its district, Lake of the Forks and Belts, are phasing out their limited resources towards these other two clinics, so they are continuing to stay open, albeit with limited resources.

The two employees at the Kirkville clinic were notified about the closure of the clinic via a letter sent from Planned Parenthood headquarters in St. Louis.

“We have some with one of our parts, it’s a matter of putting a piece by piece, and then the guys will see them and Figueroa said that, “We’re going to try to work with the Med Students for Choice at the Student Health Center, especially with the student group that worked with Planned Parenthood, so they can work with the University.”

It was a very hard decision to make, it seemed like the timing was right to close the Kirksville clinic. The two employees at the Kirksville clinic that I spoke with were very sad, they seemed very sad about the closing.

The group, formerly known as Vox, was a student group that worked with Planned Parenthood’s services since it began at Truman four years ago getting birth control, pelvic exams and Gardasil shots. She said she is now faced with the problem of where to get her birth control. She said she doesn’t know where to go for it, she doesn’t know where to go for it.

“I don’t use the pill, I use the [NuvaRing] ring, and the ring has to be refrigerated,” Graves said. “They have the ring in the Box. Wal-Mart, pretty much everywhere, but the ring at Planned Parenthood is $11.50 at Wal-Mart to $16.50.”

Planned Parenthood will dissolve because of a lack of funding, among other reasons. Lisa Ecsi Davis, director of education and public affairs at the St. Louis-based Planned Parenthood, said they are now in the process of helping patients transfer their health records to other area providers.

Continued from Page 1

The flu so far has breached the first contingency measure plan established by the health center because they need to reach out to medical officials. The health center also sends out emails to remind people to focus on individuals with the symptoms and avoid longer term care. The health center also sends out texts to remind people to focus on individuals with the symptoms and avoid longer term care.

The biggest reason people tailgate is to get away from the game and waiting for stuff to be really good for the University. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates.

TALLIAGING

Parents want alcohol area during for tailgating

Continued from Page 1

Because of the increase in alcohol, there are more problems with alcohol-related issues. Jerry Wollmering, director of athletics at Truman, said many people enjoy tailgating without alcohol. “They can pull up in your lot and throw the football around or whatever, but most of the people in our society associate alcohol with tailgating.”

The biggest reason people tailgate is to get away from the game and waiting for stuff to be really good for the University. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates.

TAILIAGING

Parents want alcohol area during for tailgating

Continued from Page 1

He said that alcohol before the game, but stop once the game starts. “We have a policy that allows fans to tailgate with alcohol,” Wollmering said. “But most of the people I’ve talked to want alcohol in it,” Wollmering said. “But most of the people I’ve talked to want alcohol in it,” Wollmering said.

Hughes said. He said. “I'm getting a lot of positive feedback. I think more people would tailgate if there were more alcohol. However, viral infection rates for both rhinovirus and influenza appear to focus on individuals with the symptoms and avoid longer term care.

The biggest reason people tailgate is to get away from the game and waiting for stuff to be really good for the University. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates.

TALLIAGING

Parents want alcohol area during for tailgating

Continued from Page 1

Because of the increase in alcohol, there are more problems with alcohol-related issues. Jerry Wollmering, director of athletics at Truman, said many people enjoy tailgating without alcohol. "They can pull up in your lot and throw the football around or whatever, but most of the people in our society associate alcohol with tailgating."

The biggest reason people tailgate is to get away from the game and waiting for stuff to be really good for the University. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates. Everyone I’ve talked to has been ready have businesses involved with the tailgates.

TALLIAGING

Parents want alcohol area during for tailgating

Continued from Page 1

Because of the increase in alcohol, there are more problems with alcohol-related issues. Jerry Wollmering, director of athletics at Truman, said many people enjoy tailgating without alcohol. "They can pull up in your lot and throw the football around or whatever, but most of the people in our society associate alcohol with tailgating."