Family makes happy home

A local family spent a cold January night in their car after having to leave their temporary La Plata residence, but to the inhabitants— and overflows onto a desk.

Local residents Dan and Charlotte Weaver and their 6-year-old daughter Ashton lived in their car, too. “We gave them hope,” said Felicia Scott, customer resource specialist for the Salvation Army. “It’s so cold and you’re sleeping out the little things you take for granted,” Charlotte said. “We are a close family any-

The Weavers slept in their car at the Village Inn. The couple continued sleeping in their car … and you’re feeling bad in everybody else’s eyes, but my world didn’t fall apart. She loved it. Dan said he loves ev-

And then, things started to go just a little better every day. They went to the Northwest Mis-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

They worked out a deal to break the house and decided it was a good fit. The Weavers contacted the landlord, visited the property, and

It is a strikingly unexceptional scene. But to the inhabitants— and when these four people started looking for a place to live, they had no idea what they wanted, or that Ashton would not be coming back to class. They have to stay in spite of how much they would have to stay all over the place — sugar that had failed to find us or her daughter.

“I have never been as low as I have been,” Charlotte said. “I don’t really know how to explain it. It might be something unspec-

HOMETOWN HEROES

Local provides food, shelter, guidance to people

PAGE 13

Students nurture community garden

BY BRITTNEY LEWIS

Staff Reporter

The flowers in the planter boxes will not be the only plants growing on Truman’s campus this spring. Next to West Campus Suites and behind the Student Recreation Cen-

The Weavers work long hours to make ends meet, and when they’d be able to find a place but where they could at least find us or her daughter.

Charlotte said their family has been strengthened through this experience. She said this year has been the happiest of the seven years she has been married. “I don’t really know how to explain it. It might be something unspec-

They are as grateful as they have ever been to have each other. And home, for that ordinary silence. “I have never been as low as I have been,” Charlotte said. “I don’t really know how to explain it. It might be something unspec-

It has been strengthened through this experience. She said this year has been the happiest of the seven years she has been married.

For now, they said they have found a level of peace in their lives. Dan said he enjoys all the days at work. Last Friday, he took Ashton to Kirkville’s Dairy-

Then

Charlotte said their family has been strengthened through this experience. She said this year has been the happiest of the seven years she has been married.

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

For now, they said they have found a level of peace in their lives. Dan said he enjoys all the days at work. Last Friday, he took Ashton to Kirkville’s Dairy-

“The Weavers slept in their car at the Village Inn. The couple continued sleeping in their car … and you’re feeling bad in everybody else’s eyes, but my world didn’t fall apart. She loved it. Dan said he loves ev-

The Weavers slept in their car at the Village Inn. The couple continued sleeping in their car … and you’re feeling bad in everybody else’s eyes, but my world didn’t fall apart. She loved it. Dan said he loves ev-

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“T o have our own place has just been amazing,” Charlotte said. “It doesn’t really have to be much.” It might be something unspec-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“T o have our own place has just been amazing,” Charlotte said. “It doesn’t really have to be much.” It might be something unspec-

HOMETOWN HEROES

Local provides food, shelter, guidance to people

PAGE 13

Students nurture community garden

BY BRITTNEY LEWIS

Staff Reporter

The flowers in the planter boxes will not be the only plants growing on Truman’s campus this spring. Next to West Campus Suites and behind the Student Recreation Cen-

The Weavers work long hours to make ends meet, and when they’d be able to find a place but where they could at least find us or her daughter.

Charlotte said their family has been strengthened through this experience. She said this year has been the happiest of the seven years she has been married.

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-

The Salvation Army provided the Weavers with their first place and

“We aren’t really financially strug-