"I'm anti locally-grown food.

Definitely true.

I go to the farmer's market, so I buy fresh foods.

The truth is, I bought delicious cantaloupe over the summer at a fruit stand.

Female stereotypes hinder athletes

Brenna McDermott is a junior English major.

Jenna Myer is a freshman English major.

Tyler Retherford is a junior anthropology major from Springfield, MO.

Students should think about local food.

Connor Stangler is a freshman English and history major from Beachport, MI.

AROUND THE QUAD

What kinds of locally-grown foods would you buy?

"I'm anti locally-grown food.

I go to the farmer's market, so I buy fresh foods.

"I bought delicious cantaloupe over the summer at a fruit stand."

What did you buy?

Student opinions:

Tyler Retherford

If any student is anthropology less than me, my folks will buy fresh foods for me.

What would you say about the food?

I think about local food often enough not to replace your entire diet with locally grown foods.