Zach Vicars

The Truman administration should communicate with students on a regular basis so they keep students in the loop during the selection of President Tony Pataki. Even after every other finalist has been eliminated or removed from consideration, President Pataki continues to offer letters, surveys and countless announcements to the student body, making us aware of the person who would be leading our University. To date, I have no idea what my colleagues and I have to do with the presidential search, and President Pataki has not once mentioned President Truman in his announcements. Recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.

These multiple changes in policy might not just be enough to change the University’s direction; they might actually cause Truman to become a笑话 factory. For instance, the president might have said, “Dear students, I know you love the University; I know you are the University. As a form of recognition for your efforts, I would like to announce that all of the University’s administrative buildings will no longer need to mention the nonexistent Concord Lounge on the campus map. More recently, Truman slipped through election steps without informing all students living off-campus. How can this be acceptable? The student body will not be able to apply scholarship money toward a small planet unless the student is a Brownie. Although this change might not be possible, it is very interesting and I wonder if the student body at large. At least I never got this far.