State of the University would improve relations

“...he shall from time to time give to the Congress information on the State of the Union and recommend to them measures as he shall judge necessary...”

Such measures as the President judges necessary will be considered and acted upon by the Congress. This tradition allows the students to put a face on the office of the President and to listen to the tradition. His public speaking will be the perfect president to begin the year, it is a good time to begin to address the school at-large into the leadership role in the next bad and the ugly of our University.

Once a year, students should get the opportunity to hear the President hopes to accomplish going on in the country and what our elected public forum, and content of the Index is the responsibility of the Index editorial board. The Index reserves the right to edit submitted material.

Letters Policy

The Index welcomes letters to the editor from the University community. Letters to the editor are due by noon the Monday before publication and are limited to 500 words. The Index reserves the right to edit submitted material or any other reason the editor deems appropriate. Submitted material includes advertisements and letters to the editor.

Editorial Policy

The Index is published Thursdays during the school year at the Truman State University Student Life Office, 1005 14th St., Kirksville, Missouri 63501. The Index is a free publication, distributed to all students and faculty. The Index is a student publication, and its views are those of the students who contribute and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the staff, the administration, faculty, or Truman State University. The Index is not responsible for the views presented, expressed, or implied in any advertisement.

Advertising Policy

For ad space information, contact Terri Johnson, Advertising Manager, at (660) 741-6949 or by email at indexads@truman.edu.