Big Event Registration closes Friday

Students and community members can register for the Big Event, a campus-wide day of community service, until 5 p.m. March 8.

The 12th annual Big Event will take place March 23.

This is a service event at which Truman State students help community members by raking leaves, washing windows, painting and more.

Student registration is online at serve.truman.edu.

Students must register individually, but can select an organization during the registration process.

Community members can register to receive assistance during the Big Event by going to serve.truman.edu/bigevent or calling the SERVE Center at 660-785-7222.

Last year, 1,700 students participated in the Big Event, and the SERVE Center hopes to increase this number this year.
