

'Dogs win Holiday Classic

BY AUSTIN WERTHS
Staff Reporter

The Truman State men's basketball team played in the Kentucky Wesleyan Holiday Classic in Owensboro, Kentucky, last weekend. The Bulldogs earned two victories Friday and Saturday, and claimed bragging rights as the team captured first place at the tournament.

The Bulldogs earned their first victory of the tournament Nov. 28 against the University of North Alabama. The Bulldogs led 39-34 during the first half. The three point game was in favor of the 'Dogs as the team shot 58.3 percent from behind the arc compared to Alabama's 33.3 percent. Sophomore guard Kyle Kanaskie led the Bulldogs with a career high of 18 points. Kanaskie went four for five from behind the arc and knocked down both of his free throws to earn his career-high.

"My personal goals are pretty much the same as the team goals," Kanaskie said. "I want to do anything that helps the team win. Last year we had a very successful season, but we felt it ended too soon. We are hoping to build off last year and make a run in the postseason."

A strong second half performance ensured a Bulldog victory against Alabama. The 'Dogs led by a margin of 5 to 7 points until late during the second half when the 'Dogs found their niche.

Senior guard Seth Jackson scored 12 points during the second half and tallied 16 points altogether.

"In the past I tried to lead through my actions and play on the court, but myself and the other seniors have been very vocal this year as we try to help the team," Jackson said.

The team's sense of urgency to get off to a positive start was fulfilled as the Bulldogs won the first game of the tournament with a score line of 87-74.

To conclude the KWC tournament, the Bulldogs took on Kentucky Wesleyan College in the championship game of the tournament. The team's shooters remained comfortable on the court as Truman earned a 60 percent shooting on the floor during the first half. The Bulldogs went 10 for 12 during the first half and led by nine points with a score line of 39-30. Jackson continued to be an offensive threat and scored 19 points during the first half.

As the Bulldogs played the final half of the KWC tournament they did not let down their intensity. The team played strong offense and defense throughout the second half. A three-point margin seemed to ignite the Bulldogs as the team went on a seven-point run and found itself in a position to win the tournament. The Bulldogs captured the title with a 70-65 victory against Kentucky Wesleyan.

Jackson led the scoring with 29 points. Kanaskie and senior guard Reed Mells tallied 11 points each.

"We are just getting our feet wet, but I feel that the total team effort was great, which resulted in wins," junior guard Andrew Vander Zwaag said.

After the tournament, the 'Dogs advanced their record to 3-2 with a two
