Top: The newly renovated Mainstreet Market reopened after Winter Break for a second semester of serving the Truman community. Students lined up in the Student Union Building to get dinner following the first day of spring courses.

Left: Around 7 p.m., members of the Truman community fill the tables of Mainstreet Market eating and repopulating a venue that's been vacated for weeks with the campus closed for Winter Break.

Bottom: Customers wait to place their orders at the Chick-fil-A at Mainstreet Market. Truman students seemed to respond favorably to Chick-fil-A during its first semester of operation last fall, as it was always a busy location when visiting the SUB.

STUDENT SENATE

IN BRIEF

Student Government did not meet this week because Truman State's campus was closed for Winter Break.

NEWS

IN BRIEF

MAE program gains notoriety

The Truman Master of Arts in Education program has gained full national accreditation for the next seven years from the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation. The MAE program underwent significant changes to become one of the first educator programs in the country to gain the national accreditation. The CAEP accreditation is an indication of a quality program with high standards, and helps Truman's MAE degree stand out to employers on a national level.

Truman secures spot on list of best value colleges

Kiplinger's Personal Finance placed Truman at number 60 on their list of "Top 300 Best College Values of 2017." Truman was the highest-rated Missouri public school, and the second-highest-rated Missouri school overall on the list, coming in behind Washington University in St. Louis.

Bulldog B.I.T.E. implements elevator pitches

The competition known as Business Innovation by Truman Entrepreneurs, abbreviated as Bulldog B.I.T.E., is an opportunity for students to pitch their ideas, products and concepts. The top prize for the competition is $3,000, with additional cash prizes for second and third place. First round submissions, short videotaped pitches known as "elevator pitches," are due 11:59 p.m. on March 6.

World War I art exhibit opens on campus

The Truman State Art Gallery and the Pickler Memorial Library Special Collections Department will display two interrelated art exhibits about World War I Jan. 26 through March 3. The exhibits will contain art and artifacts from World War I. A reception for the opening of the exhibitions will be held Jan. 27 from 5-7 p.m. in the University Art Gallery. All are welcome.
