Top: Senior Luke Bishop provides information about the critical language scholarship program. The critical language scholarship program is able to offer scholarships worth up to $8,000.

Left: The Critical Language scholarship presentation had flyers advertising when the next study abroad fair will take place. At the study abroad fair students will be seated at tables in the Student Union Building Georgian rooms to provide information on studying abroad in different parts of the world.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Index, there was an error in "Guilty plea for ongoing sexual assault finished" on pages 1 and 4. The article cited court information about the sexual assault case from Casenet.com when the information actually came from case.net.

NEWS

IN BRIEF

Truman spends 20th year as top public school in Midwest

U.S. World and News Report has Truman State University listed as the No. 1 public university in the Midwest. This is the 20th year Truman has received that rank in the list. Truman ranked as the No. 8 university in the Midwest region overall, and was the only Missouri university in the Midwest region's top 10.

US Bank donates $2,000 to "Pursue the Future" campaign

US Bank made a $2,000 donation to Truman State University's "Pursue the Future" campaign. The campaign's main goal is to make Truman become one of the nation's top liberal arts schools. The campaign will help provide for scholarships, academic programs, athletics and other areas. The fundraising goal was set at $40,000, and this donation has helped the campaign reach its 75 percent goal mark. This is not the only donation US Bank has made to Truman in the past. Including the $2000 to the "Pursue the Future" campaign, US Bank has donated more than $50,000 to the University.

STUDENT SENATE

IN BRIEF

Senior JJ Dorrell, president of the student association, reported that members of the Senate met with University President Sue Thomas to discuss resolutions about medical amnesty, the translation of Spanish materials, an LGBTQ resource center and the inclusion of Indigenous Peoples' Day on the University calendar.

Student Government elections started Sept. 7 and will continue until Sept. 21. Truman students can pick up packets in the Student Government office located on the first floor of the Student Union Building. Students can vote online at vote.truman.edu.
