Roller hockey struggles with loss of seniors

Senior goalie Danny Brown said the Truman roller hockey team exists at Truman State University (Bloomington) and the University of Missouri-Rolla. This improves the university's chances of winning the Great Plains Hockey League. He said that last year the team qualified for nationals, and two years ago the team was third in the nation. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play back in high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level." Brown said his sport also might bring students money. "People who are looking at playing collegiate, they don't even consider Truman. Whittle maintained, however, that if people who play high school, they know where to find the rink. Despite the teams' records, players still give positive remarks about the season and have an optimistic outlook for the future. "I've had a blast," LePage said. "We have a shot at going to nationals next year at a lower level."