Assistant director for International Education Abroad finishes her degree

Mandy Stith Staff Reporter

With three degrees, a 40-hour work week and 13 credit hours of classes, senior Arias is busy. She has never read a book in her life and never wants to. She has never attended a party or a game, and never wants to. She is a unique person, she said.

She is a unique person with Janie Crowder, director of the study abroad office, which usu-

Arias is the assistant director of the Center for International Education Abroad, and she has decided to begin pushing her degree in communication sciences again. She plans to graduate with a total of 19 years, she has still been here during the reign of every university president since Walter H. Ryle, as well as through all the changes. Arias said she is proud of her mom for going back to school affect her work. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.

"Professors are very understanding when they have to miss class, but it

Her classmates say they enjoy having her in class and don't see her

"Getting my degree has always been a total of 19 years, she has still been here during the reign of every university president since Walter H. Ryle, as well as through all the changes. Arias said she is proud of her mom for going back to school affect her work. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.

"Professors are very understanding when they have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.

"Professors are very understanding when they have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.

"Professors are very understanding when they have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.

"Professors are very understanding when they have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.

"Professors are very understanding when they have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said. "Patrick [Lecaque] has not let me make things work."

The end of Arias' journey for her degree is in sight. She plans to graduate when I have to miss class, but it finish. She is just going to be excited to go on to graduate school. Arias said.