A theater production will combine comedy and tragedy in "The Visit." The play is about justice and what is perceived as justice.

"It’s about how people treat one another and how that changes when you have incentives," said sophomore Kyle Schellinger.

Sophomore Kyle Schellinger plays Anton Schill, the character the visitor wants the townspeople to kill. He said the play starts with light when everyone is excited about the woman who is coming to visit, and then darkens into horror.

"It’s a very big play that gives opportunity for a lot of people to audition," Zeytesel said. "During auditions, I try to see who needs to be worked with because I don’t like to make a decision based on the tryouts."

Zeytesel said the show will be performed in the black box theater and will not only last 100 such performances.

"No one has ever seen a show like this where the stage isn’t performed in a black box theater. It’s a very big play that gives opportunity for a lot of people to audition," Zeytesel said. "During auditions, I try to see who needs to be worked with because I don’t like to make a decision based on the tryouts."

Zeytesel said the show will be performed in the black box theater and will not only last 100 such performances.

The Missouri Department of Transportation is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

The information below is not meant to indicate the availability of any specific vacancy at this time at any location within Missouri. When vacancies become available, all qualified applicants will be considered, regardless of their race, creed, religion, national origin, sex, marital status, age, disability. Qualified minority and female applicants are encouraged to apply.

However, applications for employment are accepted on a continuing basis for various jobs such as civil engineering, computer programming and other non-engineering professionals, apprentices and materials testing, legal, computer-aided drafting, vehicle repair, landscaping, building maintenance, sanitary sewer, clinical, and others.

Many field positions require at least a Class B Commercial Driver’s License with no air brake restriction. Jobs are generally, year-round. Full-time employment except used highway maintenance jobs are initially seasonal (temporary employment)

To request an application write or call:
Missouri Department of Transportation
Human Resource Department
P.O. Box 8
Macoupin, MO 63552
(660) 385-8204