Sodexo serves up new options

Mandy Carnes

With three dining halls, a coffee bar, a Mediterranean restaurant, a smoothie and a convenience store on campus, the food possibilities at Truman seem endless. Although the most drastic changes that accompany these possibilities can be confusing, they have many benefits.

Campus meal plans have changed since last year, but Lori Cunningham, assistant director of food service, and the new plan leaves students with more options than previous years.

“The big benefit is you no longer have to remember the Corporate Airlines make flights schedule changes

Corporate Airlines, which flies between Kirksville Regional Airport and St. Louis, announced flight schedule changes effective June 1, 2003.

Flights departing from Kirksville leave at 7:36 a.m., Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. on Saturday and 8:45 p.m. Sunday through Friday. Flights leave St. Louis bound for Kirksville at 2:59 p.m. Monday through Friday. Each flight lasts one hour.

Food service

According to Sodexo’s Web site, students with vegetarian or vegan needs will find acceptable food at every dining facility. Cunningham also said that Sodexo is willing to sort through recipes and provide his kitchen staff with more specific dietary needs.

“Along with meal plan changes, Ed Dunlap, building director at Corporate Airlines, said he notices other problems frequenting the Student Union Building cafe.

“This year, there were three customers who arrived at the cafe while intoxicated. They were served alcohol.

Dunlap also said students should feel good about getting the best deal for their food.

“Next year, you’ll have McDonald’s for what you pay to eat there,” Dunlap said.
