The Quad has become unusually popular these last few weeks. Student volunteers from the Baptist Student Union, the math club, the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, and the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, a cordial number of formal students in residence halls, have formed the groups sponsoring final testing-cum-events of all sorts on the Quad. BSU members senior Sarah Arias, junior Erica Smith, and senior Rachelle Stanely decided to begin handing out free Kool-Aid and selling pop at the Quad beginning at 4 p.m. because of the warm response they asked if any other BSU members were willing to help out free Kool-Aid during Truman Service Week. Todd Miller, a senior business major, was happy to give her time.

“They call us the Kool-Aid Krew,” Miller said. “We’ve been2 handing out the Kool-Aid from 4 to 6 p.m. every Thursday, neither decided to expand the hours to 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. because of the warm response from students.

The event continued through the end of the week with a table set out beside Baldwin Hall and Pickler Memorial Library every morning. With the change in weather, the free Kool-Aid became very popular, and the group asked for donations and Bratwurst. People really appreciated the service.

Jobs

Unemployment numbers rise

Continued from Page 5

The University Career Center, said the University awards grants to place students in professions of their choice.

“Don’t have a lack of number of students who want to work in Kolow for full time after they graduate,” Ketterlinus said. “As far as knowledge from the student perspective jobs available.

The center also offers GED classes and offers career development for the student.

The center is looking for, but it will not be able to place students in professions of their choice.

“I think a lot of people felt sorry for the Quad’s open flame. The money collected will go toward programs sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Alpha and the Student Involvement. This process was helpful.

Grants

Student book theft a year-round problem

Continued from Page 5

It’s a good service thing to do,” Miller said. “It makes people happy.

“At least three people remained in the tent at all times to collect donations. At least three people remained in the tent and remained in it for 48 hours. At least three people remained in the tent and remained in it for 48 hours.

The University awards grants to place students in professions of their choice.

Continued from Page 5

An International Study Opportunity:

Study the European Union, WWII Normandy celebration, Brussels, Luxembourg, Heidelberg, Mannheim, Strasbourg and Paris. Earn six hours of LSP credit, with three hours satisfying the international requirement. Program runs from May 32 to May 29. Study begins February 3 for preparation for the experience.

Informational meetings will be held at the following times:

- 5 p.m., Monday, November 24 in VH 1400
- 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, December 2 in VH 1400
- 5 p.m., Wednesday, December 3 in VH 1400

For a brochure and further information, contact Dr. Jaen Lin, Dir. of Service, call x4349, e-mail jaenlin@truman.edu, or stop by the Center for Service Learning.

An International Study Opportunity:

Study the European Union, WWII Normandy celebration, Brussels, Luxembourg, Heidelberg, Mannheim, Strasbourg and Paris. Earn six hours of LSP credit, with three hours satisfying the international requirement. Program runs from May 32 to May 29. Study begins February 3 for preparation for the experience.

Informational meetings will be held at the following times:

- 5 p.m., Monday, November 24 in VH 1400
- 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, December 2 in VH 1400
- 5 p.m., Wednesday, December 3 in VH 1400

For a brochure and further information, contact Dr. Jaen Lin, Dir. of Service, call x4349, e-mail jaenlin@truman.edu, or stop by the Center for Service Learning.