Where history and activism collide: Marc Becker

Professor Marc Becker teaches Latin America in The National Period in McClain Hall Tuesday afternoon. Becker specializes in Latin American history, social and political causes and has traveled extensively throughout Latin America. He arrived at Truman in 1999, a first-person perspective.

Marc Becker was hired by the history department in 1999. Becker arrived at Truman in 1999, a first-person perspective. Becker arrived at Truman in 1999, a first-person perspective.