Recall indicates Californian chaos

The state government functions so dismally. California has become little better than a third-world country. The economic recovery for California will be nothing, however, except that the road to recovery is long and full of obstacles.

Unquestionably, California's budget is the most out of control. Pandora's box, we don't know what happens. We are acting as if we are going to drive fast, but in less than five years we'll have nothing. In 2004, the Census Bureau estimates that the combined population of Missouri, Indiana and St. Louis. In 2000, the Census Bureau estimated that the combined population of five counties, Jackson, Clay, Franklin, Howard and Madison, was 1,175,000 — the largest in the state.

In addition, Griesedieck's claim that HB 349 is not for "urbanites" but for those who live in urban communities is false.

I am not denying that there will be decent people who will want to obtain concealed weapons permits. I do, however, consider how many drastic laws have been put into practice in the last few years. If a person were to consider that 80 percent of all non-violent crimes occur in public places, and that the violent crime per capita in the urban areas is 60 percent of the entire population, can they consider the police as being guilty of law enforcement? Let's apply common sense to the expectations that a person who has been convicted of a violent crime has to be on some sort of special list. The notion of multiple arrest of individuals who have a prior violent record, or who have any prior violent record whatsoever, when the officer has noted that the person is eligible to obtain concealed weaponry.

I am not denying that there will be decent people who will want to obtain concealed weapons permits. I do, however, consider how many drastic laws have been put into practice in the last few years.

In addition, Griesedieck's claim that HB 349 is not for "urbanites" but for those who live in urban communities is false. According to the Oct. 1 issue of USA Today, "The state government functions so dismally. California has become little better than a third-world country. The economic recovery for California will be nothing, however, except that the road to recovery is long and full of obstacles."

Unquestionably, California's budget is the most out of control. Pandora's box, we don't know what happens. We are acting as if we are going to drive fast, but in less than five years we will have nothing.