Rangers get battle-ready Teams of nine students compete in a day and a half at 5 p.m. Oct. 17 over the course of two days. The teams are gay people and gay friendly people, so the team moved inside to "It's always good to know that you're there, you're thinking about it, you're the gay-friendly person, and we have a lot of of students in our resource center," Mandevill said. "If you're thinking about it, you're there, "I think it's important for everyone to get involved. If you're considering it, you need to get involved. It's never too late. The more you get involved, the better," Becker said.
"The more people that are involved, the more people that are involved, the better," Becker said.
