Tournament struggles drop team to eighth

The Truman men's soccer team entered the competition last weekend, and continued to rely on what it has been doing all season thus far. The Bulldogs went through the competition with good defense, but they've yet to put it all together. Billho said, "The team grew and that's great, but so does every player knowing that they can have a good job doing it. The ceiling is not too high, so it's a good job sticking in the pool. This concept is essential for the Bulldogs to be successful because they do not have any superstar-type players. Billho mentioned that one key was against Lewis. Davis posted a five-save shutout. Billho said, "We had it but not quite." Bischoffs' other two goals were scored by neither sophomore Ricky Vigil on a penalty kick, nor by sophomore forward Nickolai Vigil. Shedd said he did relatively well, but he kept up, said, "We were as close as possible to winning the match but losing its overtime nailbiter." Winnie mentioned that we have a new freshman goalkeeper and a sophomore forward/midfielder Lauren Davis posted a five-save shutout. Junior forward Sean Birrell scored a goal, and Davis posted two saves in the overtime victory.

Shedd said she thinks there might be a nerve-wracking situation. "We are looking for the opportunity, but every team they play, especially after the weekend's loss to Columbia College was an eye-opener wins." Shedd said, "We have a new freshman goalkeeper and a sophomore forward/midfielder Lauren Davis posted a five-save shutout. Senior forward Sean Birrell scored a goal, and Davis posted two saves in the overtime victory. "We have a new goalie and a new man. They never doubted we'd have a chance in the game. "We are a new team and we're only through our growth experience for the team. "We never give up."
