University provides space, Scottish Rite gives funding for a new chance to reach out to community children

The University also helped by providing space for the new lab, painting rooms and installing windows. "I think that is the hardest part of the lab," said Christoff. "I think that is the hardest part of the lab.

Christoff also pointed out that the University's Scottish Rite chapter, which is run by a board, is the only thing that is funding the lab. "We have no funding," she said. "We have no funding, only from the University's Scottish Rite chapter.

"We can never totally eliminate P-to-P," Warren said. "We can never totally eliminate P-to-P.

It's whoever's downloading it, and we can't distinguish it. It's whoever's downloading it, and we can't distinguish it. And it's not going to be easy to go back and sue the people who are downloading it. And it's not going to be easy to go back and sue the people who are downloading it.

"There's a lot of sharing that's going on today, but we're going to try to make sure that it stops," Warren said.

"We can never totally eliminate P-to-P," Warren said. "We can never totally eliminate P-to-P.

"There's a lot of sharing that's going on today, but we're going to try to make sure that it stops," Warren said. "We can never totally eliminate P-to-P," Warren said. "We can never totally eliminate P-to-P.

"But if we can make sure that it stops, we can make sure that people are aware of the fact that it's illegal," Warren said. "But if we can make sure that it stops, we can make sure that people are aware of the fact that it's illegal."