Residents pay more for trash service

BY JAMIE KRENKE (The common)

After 10 years, the city’s contract with waste management Veolia will end March 31.
Negotiations for a new contact are underway.

The city is looking for a f dicials said the city is looking for Veolia’s landfill to eliminate the of trash containers as as well as lower cost of trash to which remaining the last 10 years.

The new proposal would be $4.97 per month for a 32-gallon container with attached wheels. This rate is the same as the current one. Senior citizens
