The Communiversity Garden plans to have a harvest festival this fall with local farmers' market.

The garden is currently surrounded by a picket fence which has been painted by organizations around campus.

The garden received its first 24 pickets asked to give a minimum of $5 as a donation to paint a picket. The Communiversity Garden club is raising money for its ongoing project.

The garden is surrounded by a picket fence which has been painted by organizations around campus. The garden is raising money for its ongoing project.

The garden is currently surrounded by a picket fence which has been painted by organizations around campus.