Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Thursday, October 20, 2011

Jacob S. Coxey in a march on Washington, result in action at the federal level in favor of workers. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Fourty percent of the nations wealth belongs to 1 percent of America's population. We are the 99%.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Head to Head: Occupy Wall Street

Different strategies: Protests embody need for change, ideological demands

Ken Dworkin

Occupy Wall Street seems mixed grouped. The movement, currently preparing to encamp in New York City and surrounding areas, is now, two months into its existence, more organized and actively recruiting than the one in St. Louis, which had a lower middle class. We need to restore prosperity to all America’s citizens. We need to treat our middle class with due respect. And to ensure we are restoring prosperity to all America’s citizens, we need to ensure that our middle class is treated with due respect.

Ken Dworkin is a senior political science major from St. Louis.

Zach Vicars is a senior political science major from St. Louis.