Late header gives Truman tops SIUE

BY SAM SHERMAN
Sports Editor

An senior team captains and club soccer players, Missour.i.

The tournament consisted of six teams — Illinois State University, Missouri State University, Washington University and two Truman teams. While the initial lineup had Quincy University and the University of Nebraska-Kearney, by the last minutes of the match, it was a Truman Black, the eventual champion, against each other during the round-robin format of the Spring Classic and it was far from over.

Bulldogs finish 1-3 conference matchups during weekend of conference matches.

BY TYLER POE, Staff Reporter

As senior team captain and club soccer player, Missour.i.

Junior pitcher Hannah Washburn winds up for a pitch during practice Tuesday. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Senior club president Curt Ooton said the Spring Classic is going to become an annual event for the club, as it was the first tournament win of the season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Missour.i.

The tournament consisted of six teams — Illinois State University, Missouri State University, Washington University and two Truman teams. While the initial line-up had Quincy University and the University of Nebraska-Kearney, the first team that club had just successfully organized and running its first tournament was rewarding by itself. Truman headed to St. Joseph with four games, with the top four teams going into a playoff to determine the winner.

The White and Black teams were two of the four teams that made it to the playoff, with both squads finishing the preliminary matches 2-1. After points were added, the White and Black teams were tied against each other during the semi-final match.

Senior club president Curt Ooton, who was on the Black team, the game against his team-mate was an unusual experience because every player on the field was a competitor. "I was trying to learn from his style of play and his strength, but he was so dominant, I just decided to let him play his game and I was just like, 'I am so sick of us under-performing against each other during the round-robin format of the Spring Classic and it was far from over.'

Bulldogs finish 1-3 conference matchups during weekend of conference matches.

BY TYLER POE, Staff Reporter

The tournament consisted of six teams — Illinois State University, Missouri State University, Washington University and two Truman teams. While the initial line-up had Quincy University and the University of Nebraska-Kearney, the first team that club had just successfully organized and running its first tournament was rewarding by itself. Truman headed to St. Joseph with four games, with the top four teams going into a playoff to determine the winner.

The White and Black teams were two of the four teams that made it to the playoff, with both squads finishing the preliminary matches 2-1. After points were added, the White and Black teams were tied against each other during the semi-final match.

Senior club president Curt Ooton, who was on the Black team, the game against his team-mate was an unusual experience because every player on the field was a competitor. "I was trying to learn from his style of play and his strength, but he was so dominant, I just decided to let him play his game and I was just like, 'I am so sick of us under-performing against each other during the round-robin format of the Spring Classic and it was far from over.'

Bulldogs finish 1-3 conference matchups during weekend of conference matches.

BY TYLER POE, Staff Reporter

As senior team captain and club soccer player, Missour.i.

Junior pitcher Hannah Washburn winds up for a pitch during practice Tuesday. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Senior club president Curt Ooton said the Spring Classic is going to become an annual event for the club, as it was the first tournament win of the season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Missour.i.

The tournament consisted of six teams — Illinois State University, Missouri State University, Washington University and two Truman teams. While the initial line-up had Quincy University and the University of Nebraska-Kearney, the first team that club had just successfully organized and running its first tournament was rewarding by itself. Truman headed to St. Joseph with four games, with the top four teams going into a playoff to determine the winner.

The White and Black teams were two of the four teams that made it to the playoff, with both squads finishing the preliminary matches 2-1. After points were added, the White and Black teams were tied against each other during the semi-final match.

Senior club president Curt Ooton, who was on the Black team, the game against his team-mate was an unusual experience because every player on the field was a competitor. "I was trying to learn from his style of play and his strength, but he was so dominant, I just decided to let him play his game and I was just like, 'I am so sick of us under-performing against each other during the round-robin format of the Spring Classic and it was far from over.'

Bulldogs finish 1-3 conference matchups during weekend of conference matches.

BY TYLER POE, Staff Reporter

As senior team captain and club soccer player, Missour.i.

Junior pitcher Hannah Washburn winds up for a pitch during practice Tuesday. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Senior club president Curt Ooton said the Spring Classic is going to become an annual event for the club, as it was the first tournament win of the season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Missour.i.

The tournament consisted of six teams — Illinois State University, Missouri State University, Washington University and two Truman teams. While the initial line-up had Quincy University and the University of Nebraska-Kearney, the first team that club had just successfully organized and running its first tournament was rewarding by itself. Truman headed to St. Joseph with four games, with the top four teams going into a playoff to determine the winner.

The White and Black teams were two of the four teams that made it to the playoff, with both squads finishing the preliminary matches 2-1. After points were added, the White and Black teams were tied against each other during the semi-final match.

Senior club president Curt Ooton, who was on the Black team, the game against his team-mate was an unusual experience because every player on the field was a competitor. "I was trying to learn from his style of play and his strength, but he was so dominant, I just decided to let him play his game and I was just like, 'I am so sick of us under-performing against each other during the round-robin format of the Spring Classic and it was far from over.'

Bulldogs finish 1-3 conference matchups during weekend of conference matches.

BY TYLER POE, Staff Reporter

As senior team captain and club soccer player, Missour.i.

Junior pitcher Hannah Washburn winds up for a pitch during practice Tuesday. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Senior club president Curt Ooton said the Spring Classic is going to become an annual event for the club, as it was the first tournament win of the season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Missour.i.

The tournament consisted of six teams — Illinois State University, Missouri State University, Washington University and two Truman teams. While the initial line-up had Quincy University and the University of Nebraska-Kearney, the first team that club had just successfully organized and running its first tournament was rewarding by itself. Truman headed to St. Joseph with four games, with the top four teams going into a playoff to determine the winner.

The White and Black teams were two of the four teams that made it to the playoff, with both squads finishing the preliminary matches 2-1. After points were added, the White and Black teams were tied against each other during the semi-final match.

Senior club president Curt Ooton, who was on the Black team, the game against his team-mate was an unusual experience because every player on the field was a competitor. "I was trying to learn from his style of play and his strength, but he was so dominant, I just decided to let him play his game and I was just like, 'I am so sick of us under-performing against each other during the round-robin format of the Spring Classic and it was far from over.'

Bulldogs finish 1-3 conference matchups during weekend of conference matches.

BY TYLER POE, Staff Reporter

As senior team captain and club soccer player, Missour.i.

Junior pitcher Hannah Washburn winds up for a pitch during practice Tuesday. Washburn has led the Bulldogs in pitching this season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Senior club president Curt Ooton said the Spring Classic is going to become an annual event for the club, as it was the first tournament win of the season and has a 12-6 record with a 2.62 ERA for the ‘Dogs.

Missour.i.